Event Management will, by the employment of a reputable guard service, exercise due diligence in protecting the property of exhibitors from theft, damage by fire, etc. but does not assume the responsibility for such losses by exhibitors. Event Management has set forth the following procedures to be followed at this year's show:

- No cameras or videotaping will be allowed
- All persons entering or leaving the Exhibit Hall must wear a badge issued by Event Management during set-up, show days, and teardown
- All material entering and leaving the Exhibit Hall must be accompanied by a Material Handling Agreement or Merchandise Pass
- During installation/dismantling, no one will be allowed in the Exhibit Hall before 7:00 am.

In an effort to prevent losses of your material once it is inside the Exhibit Hall, Event Management offers the following suggestions:

- Insure your material and fixtures from the time they leave your display until their return

- List number of pieces in shipment of Bill of Lading and identify number of crates/cartons/etc. DO NOT IDENTIFY CONTENTS
- Move your material into the Security Room provided by the Expo each night before leaving the building, if not using safety containers or special guards.

Consider special guard service for your booth for hours when you are not in attendance, if your material cannot be placed in a safety container or moved to a Security Room. The value of your material and the extreme inconvenience experienced when samples are lost make this a worthwhile investment.

Do not sell, give away or trade merchandise after the Expo. Re-crate and return to your display. Help eliminate the carrying of miscellaneous items through the front door after the show.

INSURANCE

The Expo Sponsors, the Show Committee, Event Management, their agents, the Las Vegas Convention Center and/or their respective agents will not be responsible in any way for injury that may occur to an exhibitor or his employers, nor for the safety of any exhibitor or material against theft, fire, water, accident, or any cause, nor for the loss or damage to goods consigned to its care.

Each exhibitor should arrange to have some place in its own booth to store any small articles of value. However, there is a security lock-up located on the Expo floor.

Exhibitors should consult their insurance companies for proper coverage on any material from the time it leaves their company until its return. In most cases, a rider can be added to your present policies for a nominal cost. Protect yourself, Act NOW!

The Expo further requires that they limit their promotional activities, i.e., product demonstrations, dispensing of literature and/or product samples, to the confines of the exhibitor's booth.

Exhibitor personnel wearing costumes or banners containing the firm name must wear an outer wrap any time it is necessary to leave the confines of the exhibitor's booth. "Live entertainment" and/or dispensing of food or beverage are prohibited.

SALE OF PRODUCT/SAMPLE

Since the purpose of the Expo is to promote the industry generally, and to facilitate the exchange of information about new products and techniques, consistent with this objective, exhibitors in their contact with trade visitors are asked to refrain from selling at the Expo.

If you find it imperative to exchange or sell a sample to a prospective buyer, please keep the merchandise in your booth until the close of the Expo at 4:00 pm, Thursday, March 20, at which time it can be turned over to the purchaser. A receipt for the merchandise including a description and model number must be presented to Event Management so that a Merchandise Pass can be issued. No merchandise can leave the exhibit hall unless accompanied by an authorized receipt from the exhibitor.
